Mindtree's banking offerings

Technology breakthroughs, reversal of deregulation and dynamic markets are impacting the banking industry. Non-banking players such as mobile operators and Internet startups are also offering similar products and solutions. This is forcing the banks to be more innovative and proactive in their operations and risk management measures. Mindtree leverages its extensive domain and technical expertise, to deliver solutions for the world's leading banks and financial institutions. The proprietary frameworks help accelerate solution development and implementation.

We enable the bank's IT organization to provide reliable, predictable and scalable services to its business users and end consumers. We have proven ability to manage and execute strategic initiatives and programs of varying size and scale, on time, using innovative delivery models. We provide 24/7 support for mission critical infrastructure and applications with stringent SLAs. We also help banks in leveraging the latest technology to derive insights from historical data and engage with their partners and customers using the digital medium.
