Secure your enterprise by zeroing in on fundamentals to minimize Log4j vulnerability

Just at the last mile of overcoming the global pandemic, on the way into 2022, we are faced with a challenge in responding to a serious threat to all digital enterprises with the Log4j vulnerability. It is one of the most massive vulnerabilities uncovered to date. As per the NIST, it has a Base Score of 10, underscoring the importance of action. It has hit everyone hard as they try to get back to work and gaze at the unknown complexities of our cyber world.
